

The map displays the Avranchin region, a peninsula in Normandy, France. It shows the coastline with several rivers and streams. Major towns and villages are labeled, including Avranches, St-James, St-Léonard, and Pontorson. The map is overlaid with a network of roads, color-coded by type: green for primary roads, yellow for secondary roads, and red for tertiary roads. A scale bar at the bottom left indicates a distance of 2 km. The map is titled 'Avranchin' in large red letters at the top.